Excellence in Graduate Education Awards

The University of Nebraska-Lincoln Excellence in Graduate Education Awards were established as a part of the Awards Program of the Office of Graduate Studies. The awards honor outstanding contributions to graduate education, provide encouragement and incentive for graduate teaching and mentoring excellence, and emphasize the importance of graduate education to the well being of Nebraska. Two awards will be made, one for Assistant and Associate Professors and the other for Full Professors. The recipients will be honored at an awards luncheon and will receive a plaque and a stipend of $1000.00.

Eligibility

1. Nominees must be Graduate Faculty.
2. Evaluations will be made on the basis of demonstrated excellence and lasting impact in the following areas: distinguished scholarly/creative activity; successful graduate research mentoring, as evidenced by a pattern of research collaboration and co-authored publications with graduate students; successful instructional performance; innovative pedagogy; special advising or mentoring efforts, including but not limited to, assistance with the development of career goals and successful job placement

Nominations

Nominations will be accepted from students, faculty, administrators, staff, parents, alumni and friends. Eligible faculty members may nominate themselves. All nominations must be received by February 6, 2004. Each nomination must include:

1. One completed, typed nomination form;
2. A letter of nomination no more than three pages;
3. Three letters of endorsement written by graduates of the program or active graduate students;
4. One letter from a peer graduate faculty member (if nomination is prepared by a faculty peer, this item can be omitted);
5. Candidate's resume or curriculum vita - limited to 10, one-sided pages. No videos, binders, or other materials will be accepted.

Note: Nominations will not be considered unless accompanied by the required student endorsements.
