Who is Amelia?

Amelia is PERSISTENT.
When playing in dramatic play, Amelia spent a lot of time taking care of the babies. With one particular baby, she wanted it to have a shirt on. The shirt was a little small on the baby, which made it difficult to get on, but she proceeded, until it was dressed, without any help!

Amelia is a PROBLEM SOLVER.
Amelia was making “cakes” in the sand with some of her friends. When it was time to clean up, she wanted to get all the sand off the table. She noticed that there was a whole in the table and proceeded to push all the sand into it to clear the table.

Amelia is a STORY TELLER.
Amelia loves playing with the people in the block area. She takes each person and gives them a particular role. In this picture, Amelia is telling me about a dad who lost his son and how they are going to find him!

Amelia is a LEARNER.
Outside, Amelia was excited to show me how fast she could go on the bike. However, she was having a hard time with the pedals. Through trial and error, Amelia found a way to ride the bike.
