

Development & Learning Sciences Master's Degree Requirements, Applied Track
Approved by DLS Faculty, March 28, 2023

Core Courses (15 hours)

EDPS 850 or 851: Child Psychology or Psychology of Adolescence (3)
EDPS 854: Human Cognition and Instruction (3)
EDPS 922: Mind, Brain, and Education (3)
EDPS 960 or 966: Advanced Cognitive Psychology in Education or Psychology of Learning (3)
EDPS 961: Cognitive Development, EDPS 991: Developmental Cognitive Neuroscience or
EDPS 962: Personality and Social Development (3)

Additional Coursework in Developmental and Learning Sciences (at least 6 hours)

At least two courses from the following:

EDPS 855: Teaching Learners to Learn (3)
EDPS 863: Introduction to Applied Behavior Analysis
EDPS 869: Developmental Psychopathology (3)
EDPS 896: Directed Field Experience (3)
EDPS 921: Creativity and Talent Development (3)
EDPS 967: Motivation (3)
EDPS 988: Lifespan Development (3)
EDPS 989: Psychology of Reading and Writing (3)
EDPS 991: Applied Social Psychology (3)
EDPS 991: Social and Affective Neuroscience (3)

Additional Core Courses from above list (beyond the Core Courses 15 hour minimum) Other appropriate courses approved by the advisor

Methods (at least 6 hours)

At least 3 hours of statistics (e.g., EDPS 859, EDPS 941, EDPS 942), and 3 hours of measurement (EDPS 870), evaluation, and/or research design/methodology (e.g., EDPS 800, EDPS 900a, EDPS 900b).

Additional Requirements

- Memorandum of Courses (to be completed prior to completion of one half of total coursework hours)
- Applied courses appropriate for specialization or student goals

- Coursework coverage of ethics and human diversity (may be included in courses such as EDPS 850, 851, 962)
- Comprehensive exams

Total coursework must be at least 36 hours (including at least 15 hours in 900-level courses).