Getting Kids to Talk about Writing (Grades 3-6)

Essential

Essential Question: How do you support your linguistically diverse students in listening, speaking, reading, and writing?

Guiding Questions:

- Unit 1: How do I get my bilingual students to talk about what they already know about the writing process?
- Unit 2: How I use my bilingual students’ oral language skills to help plan their writing?
- Unit 3: How can I use conferencing as a tool to support my students’ writing?
- Unit 4: How can I make connections for my bilingual students and their writing through the use of read aloud texts?
- Unit 5: How can I ensure that my bilingual students have productive conversations about their writings?
- Unit 6: Answer the Essential Question.

What is an eWorkshop?

Our eWorkshops are innovative online multi-media resources available free of cost to professional learning communities of educators who wish to collaboratively inquire into and improve their practice with bi/multilingual learners.

eWorkshops are inquiry oriented and are guided by an essential question and a guiding question for each of the six units in an eWorkshop. Each unit follows the same three-part learning cycle that we call Explore, Make-It-Work, and Share. In Explore participants spend 30-60 minutes exploring new ideas, content, concepts or perspectives. In Make-It-Work, participants are offered a minimum of two designed and completely supported options of how to make the new learning from Explore work in an actual classroom context. Make-It-Work takes around one hour of a participant’s time and always has a “You Make-It-Work” option, which gives participants the flexibility to design their own approach or tweak one of the options we offered. Finally, participants Share their learning either in our online space (a threaded discussion) or Face-toFace. Share usually takes 30-60 minutes of a participant’s time meaning that completing the three-part learning cycle of each unit takes about three hours. eWorkshop participants who complete all six units can receive a certificate of completion as well as use their work towards a course that will earn them one graduate level credit at the University of Nebraska Lincoln.
